Box No. V Reasoned statement under Article 35(2) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

1. Statement

Novelty (N)	Claims	1-3	YES
	Claims		NO
Inventive step (IS)	Claims	3	YES
	Claims	1-2	NO
Industrial applicability (IA)	Claims	1-3	YES

2. Citations and explanations (Rule 70.7)

1) Reference is made to the following document:

D1: JP 10-165203 A

2) Reasoned statement with regard to novelty, inventive step and industrial applicability

The present invention relates to a shoe comprising: layers including a cup-insole layer, a midsole layer, a high elasticity sponge layer, a cushion layer, and a bottom rubber sole; a plurality of round-shaped seat holes of which the size is getting smaller toward the front part, formed at the bottom rubber sole mounted at the lower part of said cushion layer; metal balls to be fixed in said seat holes; and refraction line holes formed in the width direction at the front of said bottom rubber sole.

D1 relates to a shoe wherein a plate or block-shaped hole is transversely formed in the inside area except for an upper surface outer peripheral part of its main sole, and a weight member is integrated therein.

Concerning claims 1-2:

D1 does not disclose the technical feature of the present claims 1 and 2 such as layers including a cup-insole layer, a midsole layer, a high elasticity sponge layer, a cushion layer, and a bottom rubber sole; a plurality of round-shaped seat holes of which the size is getting smaller toward the front part, formed at the bottom rubber sole mounted at the lower part of said cushion layer; and metal balls to be fixed in said seat holes.

Supplemental Box

In case the space in any of the preceding boxes is not sufficient.
Continuation of:

Box V.

Therefore claims 1 and 2 are considered novel under PCT Article 33(2) that shall apply mutatis mutandis to PCT Rule 43bis.1(b). However such a technical feature can be easily configured with a simple design procedure by a person skilled in the art from the technical feature of the shoe of D1 wherein a plate or block-shaped hole is transversely formed in the inside area except for an upper surface outer peripheral part of its main sole, and a weight member is integrated therein. Therefore claims 1 and 2 are not considered inventive under PCT Article 33(3) that shall apply mutatis mutandis to PCT Rule 43bis.1(b).

Concerning claim 3:

The technical feature of the refraction line holes formed in the width direction at the front of said bottom rubber sole of the present claim 3 is not disclosed in D1, and is not obvious to a person skilled in the art.

Therefore, claim 3 meets the requirements of PCT Article 33(2) and (3) that shall apply mutatis mutandis to PCT Rule 43bis.1(b) with respect to novelty and inventive step.

Claims 1 to 3 meet the criteria set out in PCT Article 33(4) that shall apply mutatis mutandis to PCT Rule 43bis.1(b), because all the claims are considered to be industrially applicable.
